FULHAM SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The concert opens with music by Bushra El-Turk, a Londoner with Lebanese roots, who combines Western and Eastern musical styles to thrilling effect.

Renowned soloist Rolf Hind joins us to perform Bartók's virtuosic Piano Concerto No. 2. Infamous amongst pianists for the fearsome demands it makes of the soloist, for audiences it presents a riot of colour and energy right from its opening fanfare.

Beginning gently, Sibelius' Symphony No. 2 – perhaps his most famous – unfolds an epic narrative over four movements, leading inexorably to its stirring finale. Often associated with the cause of Finnish independence, it vividly evokes the majestic landscapes of the composer's homeland.
